How big is the battery market in the Middle East and Africa?

Market forecasts suggest that the Middle East and Africa battery market is projected to grow to $9.98 billion by 2029, driven by policy support, increasing electrification, and a rise in renewable energy investments.

Why is Middle East energy launching a 49th consecutive year in Dubai?

"The continued organization of Middle East Energy for a 49th consecutive year in Dubai reflects international confidence in the emirate as a strategic centre for conferences and exhibitions, and reinforces its role in leading the global dialogue on energy security and sustainability," stated Sheikh Ahmed.

What is Middle East energy 2025?

Middle East Energy 2025 is set to redefine the narrative surrounding energy storage as a fundamental enabler of sustainability, energy access, and regional decarbonization. Over the next three days, Dubai will serve as a global hub for rethinking how energy is stored, delivered, and optimized for a net-zero future.

State utility Dubai Electricity & Water Authority (Dewa) has started planning for the next phase of the Mohammed Bin Rashid (MBR) Solar Park project in Dubai. According to industry sources, the state utility is reviewing plans and considering a battery energy storage system as part of the solar park complex's seventh phase.

Notable examples include the Gemasolar concentrated solar power (CSP) project in Spain, the first commercial-scale renewable energy project in the world to use molten salt thermal storage, and the Batwind smart battery storage solution in Scotland, the first in the world to be connected to an offshore wind farm.

For the UAE, renewable energy is a core pillar of its sustainability plans.
